Understanding Signal and Noise

Signal

Represents the information you want to leverage, among a sea of data and information

Noise

Represents all the other information, which distracts from the relevant information

4 skills for identifying signal and noise

1. Understand the objective
2. Leave biases behind
3. Be skeptical
4. Ask why